These Product Specific Conditions are just one part of the agreement between you and us relating to the Service.

You also need to read:

- The General Conditions
- The authority you have given to us
- Your application form for the Service
- The Account Charges & Processing Times brochure
- The charges schedule relating to the Service

3. What happens if the documents that make up the agreement say different things?

If these Product Specific Conditions say one thing, and the General Conditions say another, these Product Specific Conditions will apply.

4. How does the Service work?

The Forwarding Bank will provide the Service to you in line with these Product Specific Conditions.

The Forwarding Bank will act on your behalf. The Forwarding Bank will send your instructions to the Executing Bank in the form of a Request for Transfer (Outward). When you give your instructions to the Forwarding Bank, you must provide the account number for the Customer Account you want the money to be taken from when the Executing Bank makes the payment.

If the Forwarding Bank receives your instructions to make a Request for Transfer (Outward) after the cut-off times, the Forwarding Bank will consider your instructions to make a Request for Transfer (Outward) to have been received on the following Business Day. You can find out more about our cut-off times in our Payment Transaction Brochure, which is available on our website.

The Forwarding Bank may provide to the Executing Bank any information relating to you or your accounts that the Forwarding Bank thinks is relevant to your instructions.

You confirm that the Executing Bank is authorised to accept any Request for Transfer (Outward).

When the Executing Bank receives a Request for Transfer (Outward) from the Forwarding Bank, the Executing Bank will make a payment in accordance with the Request for Transfer (Outward).

5. Which rules are relevant to the way the Service works?

The SWIFT rules and standards will apply to any instruction sent or received via SWIFT.

6. Are there any requirements that apply if you want to use the Service?

To use the Service, you have to have and maintain an account with us, and you must have an account at a third-party bank.

7. What charges will you pay for the Service?

The charges are set out in the charges schedule for the Service. This is unless we agree different charges with you.

The Forwarding Bank will send you an invoice monthly. You authorise the Forwarding Bank to debit the charges shown on the invoice from any account that you hold with us. The Forwarding Bank will debit the account not less than 14 calendar days after the date of the invoice.

8. What are we responsible for relating to the Service?

The Forwarding Bank is responsible for providing a refund to you where it is required by law in respect of transactions made using the Service. Your rights to a refund are set out in the General Conditions. Beyond this, the Forwarding Bank will have no responsibility to you in contract, tort (including negligence), misrepresentation, restitution or otherwise in relation to the Service.

The Forwarding Bank will not be responsible to you for any loss, damage, injury, interruption, delay or non-performance arising out of:

- you, or someone on your behalf, sending instructions late, making errors in those instructions or failing to send those instructions; or
- any delay or failure by the Executing Bank to make a payment in line with the Request for Transfer (Outward).

The Forwarding Bank will not be bound by any representation or warranty given by a Forwarding Bank employee or other servant or agent in connection with the Service unless it has been confirmed in writing.

9. When can we suspend or end the Service?

The General Conditions set out information about closure and suspension of accounts and services, but there are some additional things you need to know about this Service.

We may suspend or end the Service immediately if any financial institution or network operator that we use to provide the Service is no longer willing to provide their services to us. This means we cannot continue to provide the Service to you.

We will still act on any instructions that had already been sent or received before the Service ended.
