3. The Service
 - 3.1 The Service allows you or an Authorised User to view certain information about your Account(s). The type of Account which you hold determines what the Service can be used to do. Some Accounts have “view only” access and it is not possible to use the Service to make transactions on these Accounts. Where an Account does permit transactions using the Service, you or an

- Authorised User may use the Service to give us certain instructions, including payment instructions, on your Account(s) (subject to any mandate which you have agreed with us about how we can accept instructions).
- 3.2 By registering for the Service and agreeing to these Service Terms and Conditions, you agree (or your Authorised User agrees on your behalf) that the Service will be available on all eligible accounts which you hold with us whether open now or in the future, and including any eligible joint accounts you hold with others.
 - 3.3 You may only use the Service or appoint an Authorised User to use the Service if:
 - (a) you or the Authorised User are 18 years old or over;
 - (b) you or the Authorised User have registered to use the Service by completing our registration requirements; and
 - (c) you comply with these Service Terms and Conditions and you have ensured that each Authorised User is aware of and will comply with the Service Terms and Conditions.
 - 3.4 We cannot guarantee that the Service complies with the laws of the jurisdiction in which the Service is accessed (unless you or an Authorised User are accessing the Service from Jersey, Guernsey or the Isle of Man). If you or any Authorised Users choose to use the Service in any other jurisdictions, it is at your own risk. You should check that the Service complies with local laws before you access it, or before you permit any Authorised User to access it, from any other jurisdiction (in particular, in respect of the encryption software which the Service contains). If you are not sure whether the Service complies with local laws you should not use, or permit an Authorised User to use, the Service in that jurisdiction.
 - 3.5 We will provide User Guidance in respect of the Service. Where applicable, you and any Authorised User should follow this User Guidance when accessing and operating the Service.
 - 3.6 Certain information which can be accessed using the Service is subject to limitations; for example, debit card transactions take time to clear and may not always be reflected immediately in the balance on your Account(s). Where you choose or an Authorised User chooses to rely on the information contained in the Service, it will be subject to these limitations.

- 3.7 Although we will take reasonable care to ensure that any information provided about your Account(s) by means of the Service is an accurate reflection of the financial information contained in our systems, where information about your Account(s) is provided by a third party we cannot guarantee that it is accurate.
- 3.8 You are responsible for checking the information about your Account(s) which we provide via the Service (including statements) and you or an Authorised User must tell us immediately if there are any errors or transactions that have not been authorised by you or an Authorised User. If you or an Authorised User tell us about any errors or unauthorised transactions on your Account(s), or if we notice any errors, we will try to correct them as soon as reasonably possible. However, in circumstances where you or an Authorised User do not immediately inform us of such issues, we will not be liable for any loss, damage, cost or expense incurred by you as a result.

4. Availability of the Service

- 4.1 We will make reasonable efforts to provide the Service. However, we will not be liable for any failure to provide the Service, in part or in full:
 - (a) for any cause that is beyond our reasonable control, for example, where we experience power failures or other disruption to our servers; or
 - (b) where we have to suspend the Service to perform maintenance, updates, changes or repairs.
- 4.2 Although the Service will normally be available at all times, instructions you or an Authorised User give to us using the Service will be processed in the same way as instructions which you give to us in our branches or by using Telephone Banking. This means that some instructions which are given to us using the Service will only be processed during standard banking hours. The terms and conditions applicable to your Account(s) provide details of the payments available on your Account(s) and the payment times and cut-off times applicable to your Account(s). We will not be liable to you for any loss that results from any reasonable delay in processing instructions which we are given via the Service.

4.3 By agreeing to these Service Terms and Conditions, you, together with any Authorised Users, acknowledge and accept the risk that access to the Service via the internet and the transmission of data is not secure and any data or information transmitted or received through the Service may be accessed by unauthorised third parties, which may result from the fact that the Service is supplied over open systems (such as public and private data transmission networks and internet servers) which are available to third parties (such as internet or network access providers) and that data may also be transferred via data transmission networks in other jurisdictions. You, together with any Authorised Users, also acknowledge that the downloading of data or information over the internet may be subject to interruption, transmission blackout or delayed transmission due to internet traffic or incorrect data transmission due to the public nature of the internet.

5. Your Mobile Banking Security duties

5.1 You must take all reasonable precautions to keep safe and prevent fraudulent use of the Mobile Banking Security Details and should ensure that Authorised Users do likewise. These reasonable precautions include (but are not limited to):

- (a) not letting anyone operate the Service on your behalf or use the Service on your behalf using the Mobile Banking Security Details, which are individual to you or (where appointed) to each Authorised User;
- (b) not choosing Mobile Banking Security Details which are easy to guess;
- (c) never writing down or recording the Mobile Banking Security Details in a way which can be understood by someone else;
- (d) taking care to make sure that no one hears or sees the Mobile Banking Security Details when you or an Authorised User use them;
- (e) keeping the Mobile Banking Security Details secret and not telling anyone else (including any joint account holders, anyone to whom you have granted a power of attorney, or any other Authorised Users) the Mobile Banking Security Details – we will never ask for the Mobile Banking Security Details in full;
- (f) keeping the Mobile Banking Security Details unique to the Service;

- (g) never accessing the Service from any device connected to a local area network (LAN) (which may include, for example, a computer which you or an Authorised User use at work) or any public internet access network, without first making sure that no-one else will be able to observe or copy that access or get access to the Service by pretending to be you or an Authorised User;
- (h) not recording the Mobile Banking Security Details in software which retains it automatically, such as an internet browser with a “remember password” service;
- (i) changing the Mobile Banking Security Details each time the Service prompts you or an Authorised User to do so. You must not choose the same Mobile Banking Security Details as you have used before;
- (j) not leaving the computer or other device which is being used to access the Service unattended while you or an Authorised User are logged on to the Service and not letting anyone else use that computer or device until you or the Authorised User (as applicable) are logged off; and
- (k) keeping the computer or any other device which you or an Authorised User use to access the Service secure, for example, by using anti-virus and anti-spyware software and a personal firewall.

5.2 We may use software and other technology to help us identify you, and to detect viruses or malicious software (malware) on the computer or device you use to access Mobile Banking. If we detect these things, we may suspend, restrict or block your access to Mobile Banking or the use of your security details. If this happens, you may not be able to access some or all of our Mobile Banking services again until you have removed the viruses or malware. If we tell you that you should use new security details to access your Mobile Banking, you must do so.

- (a) always keeping your security details secure and not sharing them with anyone, including any joint product holders. You must also ensure that only your biometric information (such as your fingerprint when using Touch ID) is registered on any devices you use to access Mobile Banking. We'll never phone, text or email you asking for your password or memorable information.

5.3 As a security measure, if you or any Authorised User are logged on to the Service but have not used it for a period of more than ten minutes, you or the Authorised User (as applicable) will be automatically logged out of the Service and will have to enter the Mobile Banking

Security Details to access the Service again.

5.4 If you or any Authorised Users lose or damage the Mobile Banking Security Details, know or suspect that the Mobile Banking Security Details have become stolen or known by someone else, or become aware of any unauthorised use of the Service, you or the Authorised User (as applicable) must:

- (a) change the Mobile Banking Security Details immediately; and
- (b) contact us without delay by calling us on the number provided in the User Guidance (or any other number we provide from time to time for this purpose) to tell us that you or an Authorised User know or suspect that the Mobile Banking Security Details have been compromised or that you or an Authorised User have become aware of unauthorised use of the Service.

5.5 We may notify you from time to time of additional security requirements or ask you or an Authorised User to choose new or additional Mobile Banking Security Details, which must be used by you or each Authorised User to access and use the Service.

5.6 Failure by you or any Authorised User to comply with this condition 5 may affect your liability for unauthorised transactions. You will be liable for unauthorised transactions on your Account(s), as set out in the terms and conditions applicable to your individual Account(s).

5.7 If you or an Authorised User uses an aggregation service, we will not treat this as a breach of the security obligations that apply to you or each Authorised User. However, we will not be liable for any loss, damage, cost or expense suffered by you as a result of the use by you or an Authorised User of an aggregation service that we do not provide. A typical aggregation service allows you to view information about your accounts with different banks on a single website.

6. Instructions

6.1 This condition 6 should be read together with any relevant sections of the terms and conditions which apply to your individual Account(s) that relate to instruction processing times, the types of instructions which you may be able to give us (such as payment instructions), information about when we may or may not accept instructions, any charges which may apply and liabilities surrounding instructions and payments.

6.2 You will be responsible for all instructions given while you or an Authorised User is logged on to use the Service.

This includes any input errors or instructions sent by anyone other than you or the Authorised User in question.

6.3 As long as the Service has been accessed using the Mobile Banking Security Details and we have not received notification from you or an Authorised User that the Mobile Banking Security Details have, or may have been, compromised in accordance with condition 5.3, we are entitled to assume that you or an Authorised User are accessing the Service and may act on any instructions given on your Account(s) without getting further confirmation. However, we remain entitled (but not obliged) to carry out further security checks on instructions which are provided to us using the Service and may refuse to act on instructions where we consider that the Service has been, or is likely to be, misused or where we are permitted to refuse to act on instructions in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to your individual Account(s).

6.4 For some Accounts, you or an Authorised User will be able to use the Service to see information about an Account but it will not be possible for you to use the Service to make transactions. Where an Account does permit you or an Authorised User to make transactions using the Service, the Service can be used to give us certain instructions, including payment instructions.

6.5 Where you or an Authorised User provides us with certain types of instruction using the Service, we may ask for additional Mobile Banking Security Details.

6.6 Once we have provided with an instruction via the Service, in most cases, it will not be possible to cancel that instruction. If you or an Authorised User realise that you have made a mistake with an instruction, you or the Authorised User (as applicable) should contact us as soon as possible on the number included in the User Guidance (or any other number we provide from time to time for this purpose). We will be under no obligation to reverse an instruction. Where circumstances permit we will try to stop the instruction, but we may not be able to do so. We will not be liable to you if we are unable to stop an instruction in these circumstances and you will be responsible for any costs which we may incur as a result of trying to stop the instruction (such as costs arising from foreign exchange rate movements, in the case of international payment instructions).

6.7 You acknowledge that where a currency conversion is required, we will convert funds at the foreign exchange rate that we are offering at the time at which the instruction is processed by us. In practice this means:

- (a) when making a single, immediate payment, you or the Authorised User (as applicable) will be informed of the applicable foreign exchange rate via the Service before submitting the instruction; but
- (b) if you or the Authorised User (as applicable) submit an instruction for a payment or series of payments to be made in the future, you or the Authorised User (as applicable) will only be informed of the foreign exchange rate applicable on the day of making the instruction which may not be the same as the exchange rate at the time the instruction(s) is (are) processed. We will not contact you or the Authorised User again to let you know the exchange rate before we process the instruction.

7. Charges

- 7.1 We do not currently charge for use of the Service. We may, however, charge you for payment services performed using the Service and the recipient bank of a payment made via the Service may charge you for receiving that payment. You are responsible for any such charges. Details of our charges are contained in our banking charges guides or available on request.
- 7.2 Third parties, such as internet service providers, may charge you or any Authorised Users as a result of use of the Service. You are responsible for any charges applied by third parties in connection with the use of the Service.

8. Important information for personal joint account holders

- 8.1 This condition 8 applies to personal joint account holders only and should be read together with any relevant sections of the agreement between you and us which applies to your individual Account(s) relating to the obligations applicable to joint account holders.
- 8.2 Each of you must individually register to activate your own access to the Service and each of you will have your own Mobile Banking Security Details.
- 8.3 If you have an "either to sign" mandate on your joint Account (where each account holder can provide and authorise instructions, including payment instructions without the approval of the others) you will be able to give us instructions in respect of that joint Account using the Service. Both you and each other joint Account holder will be able to give us instructions on any joint Account(s) independently of the other joint Account holders. You and each other joint Account holder will be liable for instructions given in respect of your joint Account(s), in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to your individual joint Account(s).

- 8.4 If you decide to terminate the "either to sign" mandate on your joint Account(s) in the future, or if any joint Account holder notifies us of a dispute and that they do not wish a joint Account to be accessed via the Service as a result, we will suspend or stop your (and all other joint Account holders') use of the Service for all of your Accounts whether held jointly or in your sole name. You will not be able to use the Service until such time as a new "either to sign" mandate has been completed, or until the dispute has been resolved.
- 8.5 If you have a "both to sign" mandate on any of your joint Account(s) (where the permission of all account holders is required to authorise instructions) you will not be able to give us instructions in respect of that joint Account using the Service.

9. Important information where you appoint Authorised Users

- 9.1 This condition 9 applies to non-personal customers only.
- 9.2 When your Authorised User registers for the Service and agrees to these Service Terms and Conditions, the Authorised User is agreeing to these Service Terms and Conditions on your behalf.
- 9.3 Where you have more than one Authorised User, each of them will be able to give us instructions in respect of your Account(s) using the Service independently of the other Authorised User(s).
- 9.4 You will remain liable for instructions given in respect of your Account(s), in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to your Account(s), by an Authorised User.

10. Liability

- 10.1 We will not be liable for any loss or damage to you as a result of making the Service available, or the use of the Service by you or any Authorised User, unless such loss or damage is solely and directly caused by our wilful misconduct, fraud or negligence.
- 10.2 Nothing in these Service Terms and Conditions limits or excludes our liability for any matter for which it would be illegal for us to exclude or attempt to exclude our liability.
- 10.3 If you or an Authorised User breach these Service Terms and Conditions, or you or an Authorised User have acted fraudulently or negligently, you must compensate us on demand for any loss and for damage we suffer directly or indirectly as a result of you or that Authorised User breaching any part of these Service Terms and Conditions.

10.4 Nothing in these Service Terms and Conditions shall affect our liability or your liability as agreed in the terms and conditions applicable to your individual Account(s).

11. Termination or suspension of the Service

11.1 If you have a Relationship Manager, you may terminate your use of the Service at any time by contacting your Relationship Manager, by contacting our internet banking helpdesk or by writing to us.

11.2 If you do not have a Relationship Manager, you may terminate your use of the Service at any time by contacting our internet banking helpdesk or by writing to us.

11.3 Where you choose to terminate your or an Authorised User's use of the Service, this termination will be effective for all of your Accounts. You may not terminate your right or an Authorised User's right to use the Service in respect of one of your Accounts alone (unless you only hold one Account with us).

11.4 We may suspend or terminate your use of the Service and/or an Authorised User's use of the Service at any time by sending you notice at least 30 days in advance.

11.5 We may also suspend or terminate your use of the Service and/or an Authorised User's use of the Service, in full or in part, at any time if we reasonably consider or suspect that:

- (a) the security of your Account(s) or the Service has been compromised;
- (b) the Mobile Banking Security Details or the Service has been or is being used illegally, negligently or fraudulently; or
- (c) the Account(s) is/are being operated in breach of these Service Terms and Conditions or the terms and conditions applicable to your individual Account(s).

11.6 Condition 11.5 will also apply in relation to the suspension and termination of joint Account(s).

11.7 We will normally give you advance notice if we are going to suspend or terminate your use of the Service in accordance with condition 11.4: however, we may occasionally suspend or terminate your use of the Service and/or an Authorised User's use of the Service without notifying you where we have been unable to contact you in advance or if there are legal or other circumstances beyond our control which meant that we cannot notify you.

11.8 When your use of the Service or an Authorised User's use of the Service is suspended or terminated for any reason, this will not affect your liability for any properly initiated instructions (including payments) or Electronic Messages issued through the Service. You will remain liable for all transactions and obligations which are incurred before and after any termination or withdrawal. We will also continue to process properly initiated instructions (including payments) that were submitted before the termination or suspension. This means any standing orders or future payments you have asked us to make will still be made unless you inform us otherwise.

11.9 We shall assume no liability for any loss or damage arising from any suspension or termination of the Service in accordance with this condition.

12. Changes to these Service Terms and Conditions

12.1 We may make changes to these Service Terms and Conditions at any time by sending you notice at least 30 days in advance, unless this is not possible, for example, in order to protect the security of the Service or in other circumstances beyond our control, in which case we will give you such period of notice as we consider reasonable in the circumstances.

12.2 When we give notice of a change to the Service Terms and Conditions, we will do so in writing.

12.3 If you or an Authorised User continues to use the Service after the date on which the change to the Service comes into force we are entitled to treat this as your acceptance of the change. Please remember that you have the right to end your use of the Service at any time in accordance with condition 12.

13. General

13.1 To the extent permitted by law, no statutory terms (which shall include warranties, conditions or other contractual provisions), rights, duties or liabilities imposed under the Supply of Goods and Services (Jersey) Law 2009 and/or the Trading Standards (Fair Trading) (Guernsey) Ordinance, 2023 shall apply in relation to the Service.

Complaints

- 13.2 If you feel that we have not met your expectations in any way, please contact us by writing to us. Alternatively, you may contact your Relationship Manager (if you have one) or call us on 0345 744 9900 from the UK or +44 (0) 1539 736 626 from outside the UK. Full details of our complaints procedure are set out in our complaints leaflet.

Validity of these Service Terms and Conditions

- 13.3 If one or part of these Service Terms and Conditions proves to be unenforceable, this will not affect the validity of the remaining Service Terms and Conditions in any way.

Not enforcing these Service Terms and Conditions

- 13.4 We may not always strictly enforce our rights, benefits or interests under these Service Terms and Conditions; for example, we may allow you more time to comply with your obligations. If we do this, it will just be a temporary measure and we may enforce our rights strictly later on.

Assignment

- 13.5 Your rights, duties and obligations under these Service Terms and Conditions may not be assigned without our prior written consent.

14. Law and jurisdiction

- 14.1 These Service Terms and Conditions are governed by the law of the jurisdiction (or jurisdictions, if more than one) in which your Account(s) is/are being held (being either the law of Jersey, Guernsey (including if your Account(s) are held with our Alderney branch) or the Isle of Man). The courts of the relevant jurisdiction(s) shall have non-exclusive jurisdiction over any disputes arising between you and us in respect of these Service Terms and Conditions.
