Who we spoke to about the closure

We contacted these members of the local community

- The local MP for Monmouthshire and the local MS for Sir Fynwy Torfaen
- Banking Team and Senior Representatives from the Post Office
- National Federation of Sub Postmasters
- The local Citizens Advice Bureau
- The local Chamber of Commerce.

The feedback we received

Some customers shared their concerns, disappointment or questions about the closure. Colleagues supported them by explaining the alternative ways to bank available locally and helping them identify the most suitable options for their needs.

Matt Bishop MP asked for details of the consultation process that took place ahead of announcing the closure, and the support for customers once the branch closes. We responded with details of our assessment, details of LINK's analysis and explained that a Banking Hub will open before our branch closes.

We also spoke to Catherine Fookes MP's team about the closure, who asked about the future of the building. We confirmed it was leasehold and would return to the landlord. We also explained the branch would remain open until the hub is delivered.

What we've done to help make the change smoother

- We've called individual customers we know use the branch as their main way of banking with us. This includes customers that may need extra support. We've let them know about other ways to bank and to provide help if they need it.
- Chepstow branch colleagues held a digital support event to help customers register and use online and digital services.
- We've partnered with the Digital Helpline who offer free one to one help over the phone to support customers to use the internet for banking. We've given customers with an identified need the contact details they need to access free support.

Our colleagues can help you

- Colleagues at the Chepstow branch have received in-depth training. They can help with a range of customer needs, especially extra support about how we can help you bank.
